

IRIS
CENTER™

Certificate of Completion Olivia Stone has completed the IRIS Center's Online Professional Development Training on:

October 29, 2019

Accommodations: Instructional and Testing Supports for Students with Disabilities

Module Objectives

- Distinguish between accommodations, modifications, and instructional strategies/interventions
- Describe how instructional and testing accommodations help students with disabilities gain access to the general education curriculum and assessments
- Understand the responsibilities of the IEP team, including the role of the teacher, for making accommodation decisions for students with disabilities
- Identify an appropriate accommodation from one of the four categories (presentation, response, setting, and timing and scheduling) based on a student's barriers and learning goals
- Identify ways in which a teacher can help to maximize a student's success with accommodations
- Determine the effectiveness of an accommodation based on objective data

iriscenter.com or iris.peabody.vanderbilt.edu
TX CPE #902-506, MA #2016F0011

2 Professional Development Hours

IRIS Module Certificates of Completion are sponsored through a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Special Education Programs.